

CERTIFICATE OF PRESENTATION

is given to

CATHERINE ROWEEN C. ALMADEN, PhD

for her presentation: “Meso-level analysis on rice-farmers' adaptive measures for slow onset hazard: the case of saltwater intrusion in the Philippines and Vietnam” in Session I: Adaptive Social-Ecological Systems: Coastal Climate Change during the Ocean Visions 2019 Summit on Climate “Successes in Resilience, Adaptation, Mitigation, and Sustainability” held at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta, Georgia, USA, from April 1-4, 2019, organized by the Georgia Institute of Technology, Stanford University, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, and the Smithsonian Institution in coordination with the IOC-UNESCO, the Ocean Conservancy, and the Georgia Aquarium.

Prof. Emanuele Di Lorenzo

Director of Program in Ocean Science & Engineering